REMEMBERING CITY POLICE CHIEF ADAMS

Jerry Sparks
Senior Reporter

Citizens and officials of McKee were in shock this week dealing with the unexpected passing of long time police chief Arthur Adams, 68. Adams was a native son being born on December 17, 1943 in Jackson County. He passed away last Sunday, March 18, 2012 at the St. Joseph Hospital in London. Adams was the son of the late Ernest & Mildred (Leger) Adams.

Arthur was currently serving as the Chief of Police for the City of McKee. He had earned 980 hours of credit from the E.K.U. Police Academy. He had been in law enforcement for a total of 40 years. In addition, to serving as McKee Chief of Police Adams had also served as a deputy within the Jackson County Sheriff's Department for many years.

His visitation will be held at Lakes Funeral Home in McKee at 6:00 pm on Wednesday and the funeral service will be Thursday at 2:00 pm with Bro. Calvin Hays and Bro. Everett Van Zant officiating. Burial will follow in the T. M. Lakes Cemetery.

Lovingly submitted by his family and lovingly written by his niece Mary Ruth Isaacs

For several years, people with scanners have often heard Unit 301 on the radio. Perhaps he was 10-97 on the scene or maybe after spending long hours in the rain or snow, he was 10-98. Yet, no matter what the call might be about, the people of McKee and the entire county could always depend on Arthur Adams to be there.

We, the family of Arthur Adams, would like to tell his story as a way to remember

Board members were presented with a status report of the construction progress for the new JCHS at the regular monthly meeting of the board of education last Tuesday, March 20th, 2012. Thanks to a mild winter and few days lost due to inclement weather, the construction is 3-4 weeks ahead of schedule. As of this week the last section of the block wall is being constructed for the gymnasium and the roof is underway. Construction of the building is being compartmentalized into two separate wings (east and west wings). The west wing

Jackson County enjoys basketball in March, Spring Cleanup in April

March means basketball in Kentucky, and April means PRIDE Spring Cleanup Month in southern and eastern Kentucky.

"While we're enjoying basketball in March, local PRIDE Coordinators also are drawing up game plans and recruiting volunteers for a hometown victory against litter in April," said Tammie Wilson of PRIDE, the nonprofit organization that coordinates the annual Spring Cleanup across 38 counties.

Jackson County's Spring Cleanup team will be led by Barry Spivey, who is the county's Solid Waste and PRIDE Coordinator.

"Volunteers are the reason we have made such progress in the cleanups in this county," Spivey said.

"Jackson County is one of the cleanest counties in the Commonwealth, considering it is a rural area, and it gives me a good feeling to know I have been part of it," he said.

"Last April was a record-breaking Spring Cleanup, with 33,409 Spring Cleanup volunteers, who netted 36,445 bags of trash and an additional 27,513 tons of trash across our region," Wilson said.

"It all starts with one cleanup and one volunteer — you — so please plan to volunteer for your local Spring Cleanup activities," Wilson said. "To learn about volunteer opportunities, stay tuned to your local media and www.kypride.org.

Cornshuck Flowers Created by Darlene Hellard at Kentucky Artisan Center at Berea

On Saturday, March 31, Darlene Hellard, of McKee, will be creating cornshuck flowers from 10:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at the Kentucky Artisan Center at Berea.

A native of Jackson County, Hellard creates an array of colorful cornshuck flowers and cornshuck angel bookmarks. Hellard's mother-in-law taught her to make a cornshuck wreath in 1981, and after her aunt learned to make cornshuck flowers by watching a program on Kentucky Educational Television, she showed Hellard how to make her first flowers.

Hellard used to search through her neighbors' corn cribs to gather corn shucks to bleach and dye for her flowers. Today she buys the materials commercially and uses fabric dyes to achieve her different colors. Her flowers are made by first tying a flower center onto a floral wire stem. Then each flower petal or bud is cut to pattern, shaped and tied individually before being assembled and tied again onto the stem. Hellard creates a wide variety of flowers in different sizes and her small iris is especially realistic.

Hellard is a juried member of the Kentucky Guild of Artists and Craftsmen, the Southern Highland Craft Guild, and the Kentucky Arts Council's Kentucky Craft Marketing Program.

Works by Darlene Hellard are regularly available at the Kentucky Artisan Center at Berea, 200 Artisan Way, just off Interstate -75 at Berea exit 77. The center's exhibits, shopping and travel information areas are open daily from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. with the cafe open from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Admission is free.

The center currently features works by more than 650 artisans from 100 counties across the Commonwealth. A special exhibition, "About Face: Kentucky Artisan Works Inspired by the Human Face," is on display through Aug. 26.

KSP to conduct checkpoints

The Kentucky State Police, Richmond Post, which provides coverage for Madison, Clark, Estill, Lee, Owsley, Jackson, Mercer, Boyle, Lincoln, Garrard and Jessamine counties, will be conducting periodic traffic safety checkpoints at locations approved by the Kentucky State Police Policy and Procedures Manual. These checkpoints will be conducted in an effort to enforce the traffic laws of the Commonwealth of Kentucky. Special attention will be paid to occupant protection (seatbelt adherence), sobriety, insurance and registration violations. A complete list of traffic safety checkpoint locations can be found at www.kentuckystatepolice.org/posts/post7.

 “You will be ‘Saving Our World, One Cleanup at a Time,’ just like it says on the free T-shirts that will be given to Spring Cleanup volunteers while supplies last,” Wilson added.

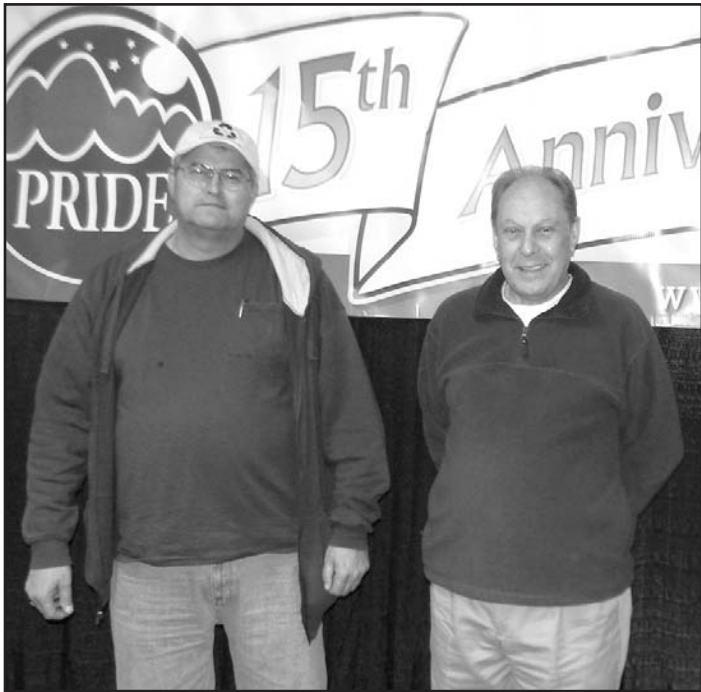

PRIDE Coordinators are volunteers who are appointed by mayors and judge-executives. They work with the PRIDE staff to organize cleanup activities, recruit volunteers and track cleanup results.

PRIDE Coordinators now are planning each community’s Spring Cleanup activities. They will recruit volunteers for events they schedule and assist volunteers who want to plan their own cleanups. Some communities also will offer free trash disposal events or clean up illegal dumps during the Spring Cleanup. PRIDE will provide volunteer T-shirts, cleanup supplies and funding assistance for local governments.

The region-wide Spring Cleanup is made possible by a grant to PRIDE from the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration and by these sponsors: Waste Connections of Kentucky (Gold Sponsor), Outdoor Venture Corporation (Silver Sponsor), New Horizon Graphics (Bronze Sponsor), Lightyear Network Solutions (Bronze Sponsor), and Owens Auto & Truck Parts of Corbin (Bronze Sponsor).

To volunteer for the Spring Cleanup in Jackson County, please contact Barry Spivey at 287-7688 or barryspivey@yahoo.com.

By April 1, a list of local Spring Cleanup events will be available by choosing Jackson County at www.kypride.org/calendar.

Barry Spivey Judge-Executive William Smith recently attended a regional planning workshop for PRIDE Spring Cleanup Month, which will be in April. They will lead the local Spring Cleanup team.

We would like to congratulate the Tyner Elementary School Academic Team on their second place finish in the 2012 Regional Governor’s Cup. After taking 1st place in District, students traveled to West Irvine Elementary School to compete against 11 other schools from Estill, Lee, Wolfe, and Jackson County for regional competition. In Quick Recall, Tyner took second place and played in the championship round against a very talented West Irvine Elementary School team.

In written assessments, Tyner had several placements including the following: Adam McCowan- 2nd place in Science and 4th place in Math, Reagan Bowman- 3rd place in Social Studies, Mandy Roberts- 5th place in Language Arts, Jamie Moore- 1st place in written composition. With these placements in written assessments in addition to a 2nd place quick-recall finish, Tyner was able to take 2nd place overall in the competition.

We are proud of Tyner’s Academic Team on a great season, as well as all three elementary schools in Jackson County for greatly representing our school district.

Last week Jackson County Girl Scouts celebrated the 100th birthday of the Girl Scouts. Girl Scouting builds girls of courage, confidence and character who make the world a better place.

is the farthest along. However, the east wing is catching up with its completion date targeted as July 16th, 2012. The gymnasium area will be the last portion finalized and has a tentative completion date of October 01st, 2012. The electrical system, the HVAC and the plumbing are approximately 65% complete.

The board awarded the bids for the cafeteria furniture last meeting and it has an arrival date of April 01st, 2012. The bids for the remaining furniture were awarded at the meeting this week. The delivery date is expected to be June or July 2012. The board was expected to approve advertising for bids on the baseball and softball complex as well at the board meeting this week.

If nothing unexpected occurs students may have an opportunity to start the 2012-2013 school year at the new facility. The gymnasium and the agriculture shop may not be available until October but the school may have alternative ways to address the needs of those areas of the high school. In addition, Mr. Doug Wilson (JCHS Ag Teacher) has made a request to the board to include a greenhouse as part of the project. The greenhouse at the current JCHS serves as a critical outdoor laboratory serving the needs of a large group of agriculture students and providing a steady source of revenue for the agriculture program as well.

Automobile Accident Injures Child Pedestrian

Jerry Sparks

Senior Reporter

According to information supplied by the Jackson County Sheriff’s Department, Donald D Lunsford, 44, of McKee, KY was arrested for operating a motor vehicle under the influence of alcohol/drugs/etc with aggravating circumstances and wanton endangerment 1st degree by Jackson County Deputy Lynn Goforth on Monday, March 19th, 2012. According to the uniform citation, Lunsford was driving a 1994 GMC pickup on Lunsford Hollow Road when he lost control and drove over a small embankment. The vehicle overturned and struck a 12-year-old child who was walking in the grass near the roadway. The Jackson County Ambulance Service transported the child to the St Joseph Hospital in Berea. The child’s medical condition was unknown at press time.

According to the citation, Lunsford admitted to the officer that he had consumed a 12-pack of beer and had also taken Xanax and Loratab medications. Although he stated that he knew he had taken too much medication to be driving, he refused to allow a drug test to be performed.

ADAMS

From the front

this special man. Arthur was the son of the late Ernest and Mildred Adams and spent most of his childhood in the Moore Hollow in Sand Gap. He was the third child of six (Boyd, James, Louise (Horn), Arthur, Leroy, and Susan (Isaacs)). Arthur was raised in a poor family but was surrounded by love from his parents, brothers, and sisters. As the years went by and the family grew, he became loved by brothers-in-law and sisters-in-law, nieces and nephews, and love grew for one another every day.

Arthur was a natural born law enforcement officer. He began his work as a constable in Jackson County nearly 44 years ago (1968) when he was 24 years old. He served as a deputy under several sheriffs: Fred Hays, Ernest Moore, Hershel Lynch, and Dewey Brewer. He also served as a county patrol officer. Although most all of Arthur’s law enforcement positions were in Jackson County, he left the county a couple of times to become Chief of Police in Cumberland, Kentucky (Harlan County) and Stanford, Kentucky (Lincoln County). Yet, his heart was truly in Jackson County and he came back to serve the people he loved.

Speaking of the people he loved, this article would not be complete without talking about his wife, Linda; daughter, Rebecca; son-in-law, George; and the love of his life, his granddaughter, Aimee. Arthur also dearly loved his stepson Michael Grillot (wife Jennifer), and step grandchildren Alyssa and Bradley. They were not a “stepfamily” and their love was strong. Arthur and Linda were a match made in Heaven and they loved each other dearly. Rebecca “Becky” was the gleam in her daddy’s eye and he was so proud to have George as his son-in-law. Aimee is his 20-month old granddaughter and will always be “Papaw’s baby.” For the past 20 months, she has been his reason for carrying on when he felt like he couldn’t take another step. Although Arthur continued to work and answer calls at all hours of the day and night with little sleep, his health started to fail him. He became tired. It was time to go home.

On Sunday, March 18, 2012, around 4:30 p.m., Chief Adams received his final call. During this call, he made his longest journey. He was called by the voice of the Lord to come home. His work on earth had ended. His service to others was complete. When he entered the portals of Heaven, “His lord said unto him, Well done, thou good and faithful servant: thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy Lord” (Matthew 25:21). Although the hearts of his family are broken, we realize that we are not grieving alone. You, too, have been touched by Arthur’s passing. Arthur was a kind man who would help anyone no matter how rich or poor, young or old. He could be depended on and we know our county has lost one of the finest, most professional policemen that we ever had.

Since Arthur’s passing on Sunday, we have met so many people who have told us how good Arthur had treated them. We heard about how Arthur would go to different locations in McKee and turn his cruiser’s lights on. Children would come running out and he would open the trunk and give them all candy. He has been doing this since becoming Chief of Police for the City of McKee in 2007. Since that time, the children called him “The Candy Cop.” He loved children and had a special way of making them feel valued, accepted, and safe. As his daughter, nieces, and nephews can tell you, he was so good with children. We pray that the positive influence he had on the lives of children (and adults) will remain with our county. “Arthur,” “Chief Adams,” “Daddy,” “Papaw,” “Uncle Arthur,” “Big Brother,” and “The Candy Cop” will be sorely missed.

We, the family of Arthur Adams, want to thank you for your thoughts and prayers during this difficult time. We ask that you continue to keep us in your prayers. When you think of Arthur in the years to come, remember him with a smile. That is the way we will always treasure him in our hearts.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

I thoroughly enjoyed your recent article (Finding Bigfoot in Jackson County) in the February 23rd edition of the Jackson County Sun. The claim of Mr. Fee's bigfoot sightings in the New Zion area reminded me of a story my grandmother told me some fifty years ago.

My grandparents were Harvey and Nettie Venable. They owned land around the old New Zion School; matter of fact the west boundary bordered the Daniel Boone National Forest.

As long as I can remember, I have always loved a good scary story and would always quiz my Granny about any odd goings on since my last visit. And, more often than not, she would not disappoint me. I recall this one occasion, when she told me the story I am about to relay to you.

It seems, they had been awakened one night by their dogs carrying on outside. My grandparent's response to a possible intruder or anything unexpected in the middle of the night, was a loaded shotgun and pistol along with a blackjack for good measure. I know this to be true; I have personally witnessed this drill several times when I was young.

She said, the dogs were under the back porch, snarling and growling, but would not come out from under the porch. It was as though the dogs were terrified of whatever was lurking in the dark.

Cautiously moving through the house and not turning on any lights gave my grandparents the advantage of looking out, but not being seen by anyone or anything from the outside.

As she peeped out the back door window, there in the darkness, just past the porch was a dark silhouette, something large and standing upright. She said, it was 7 or 8 foot tall, but wasn't sure what it was and thought it might have been a bear, even though there had been no report of bears in the area for years.

Whatever it was, the dogs were still making no attempt to drive it away. It finally left without incident, yet the dogs would not leave the safety of their vantage point from beneath the porch. Also, to my best recollection, she never indicated it dropped to all four and amble off as a bear would have.

There is one thing I am confident of: if whatever it was had made an effort to enter the house and it had been a Bigfoot, the scientific community would have had a specimen to study.

To The Voters Of Jackson County

Some time ago I announced for the office of County Court Clerk and I sure have received very much encouragement since that time. As some of you remember I ran for Clerk four years ago and lost only by a small vote, and I am happy to say I have much more encouragement in this race than I did four years ago. I don't know how to put it in words or how to say to my friends how I appreciate your help and above all your confidence you have in me as the duty of a clerk. Now to you that don't know me I have lived in Jackson County all my life, used the same post office all the time; attended and served the one church all the time. It will be easy for you to learn about me. Now let the days that are ahead prove I appreciate what you do for me.

EPIDEMIC OF PARTY LINE DIFFICULTIES

The prevalent complaints are that children are permitted to play with the phone and also have needless long conversations, thus monopolizing the line. We have repeatedly called this to the attention of our subscribers and this condition does not improve as much as we would like to have it.

We would like to remind you that modern, dial telephone is one of the outstanding modern convenience that has become available to rural areas in the last decade.

The telephone company reserves the right to limit the continuous use of a party line for a local message to five minutes.

JUDGE FAILS TO APPEAR FOR HEARING

County Judge Allen Harrison of Jackson County failed to appear in Madison Circuit Court Friday against Wilgue Isaacs, of McKee and his son, Happy Isaacs.

FAITH & FAMILY

P.A.I.D.'s mission is to fight against the hold illegal drugs and addiction has on our community through prayer and faith in Jesus Christ. Each month individuals from all over Jackson County, from various denominations and those who don't attend church regularly, come together to pray for an end to the evil addiction that has touched everyone in some way. We would like to invite you to our first annual Walk to the Cross on Saturday, March 31st.

The idea is to gather all Church denominations and community groups and individuals. Beginning at McKee Baptist Church, parking lot, we will be carrying a full size cross around the old court house, concluding at Bond Memorial Park.

There will be a small cross for the children to carry with us.

This is something for the whole family; the whole community to partake of. The Cross Walk will end at Bond Memorial Park with a celebration of Christ's victory over death! There will be a special testimony from graduates of Jackson County Drug Court, followed by food, fellowship, and singing!

Don't forget a chair to enjoy the music.

TRUE VINE

INSPIRATIONAL THOUGHTS INTO GOD’S WORD

Author: Lynetta Hunter truevinebook.com
1 Samuel 1:1-28, 12:1-25

Samuel had been an honest, caring prophet and judge for many years. His mother dedicated him to God from his birth and He ended his ministry as an old gray-haired man. He had stood in the gap for the Israelites many times and they had seen his prayers and sacrifices find great favor with God. The Philistines, their most aggressive and powerful enemy, were even subdued by the hand of the Lord because of Samuel’s faithful relationship with God. The many years of spiritual guidance and leadership still didn’t stop the inevitable from happening. The hearts of God’s people had been turned from Him and drawn into the covetousness of sinful lifestyles around them.

Samuel may have anticipated some hardness of hearts, but never a flat out rejection of God as their King. However, he surely thought they would believe him once he explained the oppression their families would be under by having an earthly king like the other nations. He explained how the strength of their children would be used for revengeful, use-less wars, and how they would become as servants under abusive earthly authority. He warned them that the best of what they had would be taken from them until they became poor, empty, and at their master’s mercy. Still, they were so deceived with hearts full of lust that moral values and care for their children didn’t mean much to them. Satan is the prince of this world and when we submit to his authority he will do the same to us, killing, stealing, and destroying every good quality in us and our children, eventually taking us captive and using us for his evil drudgery. Jesus is our only hope for deliverance. He conquered and defeated evil captivity, generating spiritual freedom and liberty for all who would accept it.

The actions of this biblical event causes an eerie feeling when spiritually perceiving how even as God’s children, in a sealed place of redemption, following religious rituals and services, we can still let temptation of sin become our focus of attention until we can longer see and understand God’s spiritual ways, blessings, and provision. No one is exempt from temptation, but we all have the choice, by the power of the indwelling Holy Spirit, to submit to God and resist the devil. The Israelites eventually learned by their mistakes and called out to God for deliverance. They found Him waiting for their repentance, with grace and mercy. He restored their fellowship with Him and set a righteous earthly king over them who would pave the way for the ultimate heavenly King, Jesus Christ.

Liza Jane had settled into the recliner in her room and started to think back over the day.

September 4, 2010
Dear Jessie,
I realized today, that daddy’s condition is declining. Jake and I talked about it and he is in agreement with me that daddy wants to be left alone to live out his days. It is comforting to know I have a friend here that understands the situation. Jake adores my father and he is willing to help me in any way I deem necessary. Today daddy made a list of topics he said he wanted to tell me about, and when he started to tell me about the time his younger sister almost drowned, he couldn’t remember what had happened. He didn’t seem too upset about it, and took a nap shortly after that. I guess if it comes to him another day, he will tell me about that day.

We took a long walk today, Jake and I. Daddy was worried that a rattlesnake or copperhead may attack me, so he asked Jake to guard me on my walk. No snakes were found, but there were some aggressive dogs to deal with. Jake spoke to them in a stern way and they backed off immediately. I think he has a way with animals. We had determined that we were disgusted by the amount of liter along the road, so we filled two trash bags with garbage on our walk! I suppose we will repeat the picking up of trash each time we walk. Just maybe, the bums that are throwing the trash out of their cars will see us picking up their garbage and will think twice about littering next time right? Ha Ha Well, it’s a good thought anyway, you never know how or when you can influence others! I personally can’t stand the way it is polluting the environment and looks so disrespectful to all the people who live around here. I guess it will look its best as long as I am here!

We went treasure hunting today at three local flea markets. I found a really cute clock to put in my room. It is white with little green frogs on the sides. You know how I think frogs are so cute! The quilt on my bed that mother made, has green, yellow and pink in it, so I thought the frog clock would add to the décor of my room nicely! Daddy found an old iron he wanted to sit by the wood burning stove, and Jake found a pack of sham-mie towels to clean his truck with! You never know what you will find at a flea market! We did buy some homemade jellies to put on our biscuits which we will be testing in the morning.

I can hardly believe I have been here almost a week already. It’s going way too fast.

With love,
Liza Jane

TIME TO BURY THE SHOT

By John Shindlebower

With the NCAA tournament in full swing, basketball fans in Kentucky have a lot to be happy about. The Bluegrass State placed four teams in the big dance, a couple of more in the NCAA women’s tournament and Bellarmine University was positioned to make a run at repeating as Division II champions. Yet, unhappy voices are growling in unison.

Specifically, University of Kentucky fans are upset over a new UPS television ad that uses some very painful footage of the 1992 UK-Duke game. Anyone over 25 knows the story and those younger than 25 have probably heard the story retold in the same manner an old man tells about the time he had to put down his faithful hunting dog after 15 years in the field.

We called the 1992 Cats the Unforgettables, a team featuring several Kentucky boys who overachieved and fought their way through probation, more talented competition and stiff odds to find themselves one win away from the coveted Final Four. A matchup against top-ranked Duke went down to the wire and into overtime. After a Kentucky basket put the Cats up by a point with 2.1 seconds remaining, the Big Blue faithful knew victory was certain.

Then came the play...the full-court inbounds pass that went unguarded...the catch by Christian Laettner...the dribble...the turn...the jump...the shot...the swish...the buzzer...the dejection. It’s been called the greatest college game ever played, but Kentucky fans can’t accept that notion. Any game deserving of being called the greatest would not include a final score showing the Wildcats were losers.

That final play has been showed literally thousands of times in the two decades that’s passed. Even now, faithful UK fans who can stomach watching when it comes on TV, secretly hold out hope that the ball will clank off the front of the rim, changing history and erasing one of the most painful moments of their lives. The shot never fails to go in.

Now UPS is airing the clip in a new commercial that will air repeatedly during the tournament. Kentucky fans feel they’re being subjected to what amounts to mental torture. They know the same sick feeling that former Red Sox’s first baseman Bill Buckner must endure every time he watches a replay of that ground ball skipping between his legs during Game Six of the 1986 World Series.

I say it’s time Kentucky fans let it go. Since 1992, we’ve been to five Final Fours, have hung two National Championship banners and may win another one this year. Let’s accept that the play in 1992 was indeed an iconic moment in sports, made even more memorable because it involved Kentucky. Had Duke pulled that game out against a team like Arizona, Memphis or Syracuse – it probably would not have the same impact twenty years later as it does now.

Yes, Laettner buried the shot, but it’s time Kentucky fans do the same. From now on, UK fans should look back at 1992 and not think about the shot, but rather the team the featured native Kentuckians who brought the program back from the ashes. As long as we allow that shot, that clip, that moment to define that season, it still holds power over us.

Embrace the fact that UK was part of the greatest game ever and that in the 20 years since, UK has been arguably the most successful program. That shot didn’t end dreams, it launched the Cats into the future that’s got Kentucky fans from border to border beaming with pride. If that doesn’t work, just change the channel for 30 seconds.

Memorial Hospital Announces New Medication System

On March 13, Memorial Hospital implemented a new, safer and more accurate process for administering medication to patients. Medication Positive Patient Identification (mPPID) reduces the possibility of a medication or dosing error in the hospital.

With mPPID, nurses use mobile or fixed computers in patient rooms with attached bar code scanners to scan the bar codes on patients' wristbands, as well as bar codes on individual medication doses ordered by physicians. Once a nurse has successfully logged into a patient's electronic medical record, and before the medication is administered, the bar code on the patient's wristband tells the nurse who the patient is and it accesses the patient's electronic medical records to determine if there is an order for that medication. If the medication ordered on a scanned patient is not a perfect match, the clinician is notified immediately.

“Medication Positive Patient Identification is one more step we’ve taken to strengthen the quality of our patient care. It serves as a second line of protection to significantly improve accuracy in the delivery of medication,” said Teresa Laws, Vice President and Chief Clinical Officer for Memorial Hospital. This interactive, mobile and immediate method of verifying medication and dosage is an improvement over the traditional process. Historically, the medication administration process would include checking a paper-based record-keeping system at a centralized nursing station, transcribing information by hand, comparing this against the patient chart, visually checking the wristband to confirm patient identity and transcribing patient information back to the paper-based record keeping system.

“By its nature, the traditional medication administration process takes caregivers away from their patients in order to perform administrative processes. The new mPPID system allows nurses to spend more time at their patient’s bedside, improves productivity and efficiency, reduces medical costs, and most importantly improves patient safety,” said Laws.

According to statistics from HIMSS Analytics, by implementing mPPID Memorial Hospital is now in the top 8.4% of hospitals nationwide in electronic medical record capabilities.

Generals Fall to Middlesboro in Home Opener

Jerry Sparks
Senior Reporter

The 2012 JCHS Generals played their first game of the season at home against Middlesboro on Monday, March 19th, 2012. The game also served as the first game of the 13th Region All "A" Classic. There was a good crowd gathered to watch the home opener. Unfortunately, the Generals were defeated by a final score of 1-3 in 7 innings.

"Chance Westerfield pitched a really good game," reported Coach Neeley. "Austin Whitehead provided relief for one inning and pitched really well, too." The Generals left 11 base runners on base. "We just got beat by a really good team."

The Generals have a very promising team this year with several talented veteran players on the squad (8 seniors and 4 juniors) providing balance and leadership for the underclassmen. Coach Brent Gay and Coach Joe Neeley, Sr. have high expectations for this squad on the season.

Following is the upcoming schedule for the Generals this week:

Mar 22, 12	Estill County	home	5:30 PM
Mar 23, 12	Bell County	away	6:00 PM
Mar 26, 12	Knox Central	away	5:30 PM

Kentucky Lake crappie fishing heating up

The crappie spawn often coincides with the blooming of dogwood trees in Kentucky. Many anglers plan a crappie fishing trip to Kentucky Lake at that time of year.

This typically occurs in mid to late April, just after the conclusion of what country people call redbud winter, the cold snap following the first real warm weather of the year.

This year, you don't have to wait until redbud winter passes to catch crappie at this world renowned lake. The crappie are biting now.

"I went yesterday and caught 13 keepers in the first two hours," said Paul Rister, western fisheries district biologist for the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources. "I had as many throw backs as I did keepers. Most of the throw backs were 9 to 10 inches."

Rister reported the water temperature hovered around 55 degrees, unusually warm for mid-March. "They are definitely close to spawning," Rister said. "With air temperatures in the 80s for a while, there will be some fish spawning maybe as early as next week."

Vertical jigging red and chartreuse and purple with pearl 1/16-ounce tube jigs produced Rister's fish. He said a co-worker and friend drifted their baits over flats and had their limits by 1 p.m. "All of my fish came from 8 feet of water or less," Rister said. "The water is heavy stained to muddy and that definitely helped. Of the 20 fish in my limit, 15 were white crappie and five were black crappie."

Productive white crappie fishing is soothing to the soul of many crappie anglers on Kentucky Lake. Strong reproduction in 2009 and 2010 should provide plentiful white crappie fishing in the future.

The heavy stained water in Kentucky Lake right now allows anglers to catch black crappie with traditional white crappie fishing presentations. However, when the water clears again, that goes out the window. Fishing for black crappie is a lot of fun, but a different beast than fishing for white crappie. This difference can be a source of frustration for crappie anglers steeped in the white crappie techniques of drift fishing, vertical jigging or fishing close to shallow brush piles or stake beds.

Warriors Win KY BCI March Madness Championship

Jerry Sparks
Senior Reporter

Congratulations to the W.A.R. Trucking Warriors on winning the 2nd grade championship at the Kentucky BCI

2012 March Madness Tournament held at the Knott County Sportsplex on March 17th, 2012. The Warriors defeated the Johns Creek Bearcats to secure the championship with a final score of 33-15. Coach Bowling would like to thank all the parents for their support and the team for their hard work and dedication.

18-hole golf course now open to public at Crooked Creek

There is nothing but good news coming out of Crooked Creek Golf Course these days and for golfers it gets even better. The beautiful 18-hole golf course is now open to the public. That is right. The once private 7000-yard paradise is now open to all.

New General Manager Ron Roberts who moves over from Burnside Side Golf Course in Somerset after three year has not only opened the doors to the public but has brought a new attitude and philosophy to the London course.

“We are here to make your visit fun,” says the PGA Golf Professional who also worked 11 year in Naples, Florida prior to landing at the General Burnside course. “We want your experience to be fun, enjoyable and positive as you visit our community.”

He had also opened the doors of the clubhouse’s luxurious banquet rooms for private parties and meetings in efforts to build packages that fit almost any type of event.

Roberts, who is the author of a golf instruction book titled “Golf Stupid Simple” is an avid teacher of the game and wants to introduce golf to all ages especially the younger ones.

It is easy to see why he was recently chosen for the 2011 Junior Golf Leader award for Kentucky.

For the past couple years he has been working on a Golfer Development Program in an attempt to introduce golf into the PE Curriculum for area schools and grades K-12.

Basically, the new man at Crooked Creek wants folks of all ages to play golf and in order to make that possible he and his staff have designed different packages to accommodate different income levels and professions.

Roberts has developed more than eight different membership packages to make sure you do not get left out. You have the single, family or corporate membership packages.

For schoolteachers, who only get a chance to play during the summer, there is a plan for you. Crooked Creek has stocked up with new golf carts. Gone are the ones golfers had nightmares for the past few years and Ron says do not forget about the Creeks’ driving range.

We want to combine the quality, design and beauty of our course with unparalleled service and our promise is no more golf cart issues, says Roberts.

Ron and the staff would like for you to stop by 781 Crooked Creek Drive in London or call 606.877.1993 and check out their new attitude and spend a day at the Creek. For your convenience the pro shop is open seven days a week from 8am till 9pm.

JACKSON COUNTY 2012 SPRING CLEANUP MARCH 1-THROUGH APRIL 30

Through a grant from Eastern KY. PRIDE, the Jackson County Fiscal Court and PRIDE will be sponsoring our Annual Spring Cleanup the months of March and April. There will be two free drop off Saturdays in April for the public. Dates are the 7th and 14th. That is the first two Saturdays in April.

Citizens hauling trash during the free Saturdays will be asked for their name, address, and current trash hauler. I would like to remind everyone that Jackson County has a mandatory ordinance requiring every household to be on trash service with a permitted hauler. If you need information about the hauler serving your area call 287-7688. Citizens will be limited to one load of trash, junk, etc. per family. A truck and trailer both loaded will be considered one load. There will be a charge on tires brought in during these free Saturdays. Hours for these free Saturdays will be 8:00 AM until 2:00 PM. As always we will be recruiting volunteers for roadside cleanups in March and April. Before a volunteer group can participate they must contact the Solid Waste Coordinators office to set a date for their cleanup and pick up the proper paperwork. This year the cleanups will run the entire months of March and April for volunteer groups. The Jackson County Road Departments will not be hauling trash unless it is roadside litter picked up by registered volunteer groups. We can only accept tires picked up on the roadside by registered volunteer groups. If you have any questions concerning the free Saturdays, volunteer groups, or our recycling program call Barry Spivey at 287-7688.

REMEMBER METAL APPLIANCES AND E-SCRAP ARE ALWAYS FREE AT THE TRANSFER STATION. TIRES ARE NOT FREE UNLESS A REGISTERED VOLUNTEER GROUP HAS PICKED THEM UP FROM A ROADSIDE CLEANUP!!!!

USDA Announces Assistance to Rural Communities and Residents in Kentucky Affected by Recent Tornadoes

Agriculture Secretary Tom Vilsack today announced comprehensive outreach efforts are underway to assess damage and assist rural Midwest and Southern communities in the wake of recent deadly storms.

The incident is now predicted to be the first billion-dollar disaster of 2012. The National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration's current count of confirmed tornadoes from the March 2 outbreak stands at 42, with damage reported in Alabama, Georgia, Indiana, Kentucky, Mississippi, North Carolina, Ohio, South Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia and West Virginia.

After the disaster, the USDA Food and Nutrition Service (FNS) approved Kentucky's request to allow the use of Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) benefits to purchase hot food items from authorized SNAP retailers in all Kentucky counties that have received or will receive a Presidential Disaster Declaration that includes individual assistance. FNS approved disaster-related waiver requests to extend the timeframe for SNAP households to report food loss for affected counties in Kentucky.

The Farm Service Agency (FSA) reminds producers in storm damaged areas to document any losses or damage to their farm or their land in the event that funding becomes available which covers that loss.

FSA also provides funds through the Emergency Loan Program (EM) to help producers recover from production and physical losses due to natural disasters. Producers in these counties will be eligible for these loans if the county is declared a Presidential or Secretarial disaster county. Emergency loan funds may be used to restore or replace essential property; pay all or part of production costs associated with the disaster year; pay essential family living expenses; reorganize the farming operation; and refinance certain debts.

The FSA Emergency Conservation Program (ECP) provides emergency funding and technical assistance for farmers and ranchers to rehabilitate farmland damaged by natural disasters and for carrying out emergency water conservation measures in periods of severe drought. Subject to the availability of funding, ECP can be used to assist with debris removal, fence repair and replacement, and repairing damaged farmland.

Producers affected by the disaster should contact their local FSA office as soon as possible to report their losses and damage. Photographs should be taken of any damage, if work must be completed prior to reporting loss or damage to the FSA office.

During the month of March, Sand Gap Elementary hosted a special reader in the Pre-school/HeadStart classrooms. Jackson County Judge Executive, William Olford Smith, read during Read Across America Week and then again prior to a meeting with Save the Children Director, Reed Livingston, Site Specialist, Margaret Sergin, and Early Steps Coordinator, Carol Isaacs. Our foster grandparent, Burgess Durham, also read a story and did an outstanding job, thanks Papa Burt! Our special thanks to Judge Smith for sharing his time and information on promoting early literacy in the homes of our community!

Midway College Reaches All-Time Enrollment Record and Surpasses Goal Set for Academic Year

Midway College is pleased to report that it has reached a total unduplicated enrollment of 2,412 students. This is an all-time high for the College and it surpasses the goal the College set for itself of reaching 2,310 students by the end of this academic year in June.

"This is a tremendous accomplishment and all of our faculty and staff helped play a part in the College reaching this historic milestone," said Dr. William B. Drake, Jr., Midway College President. "The College continues to see growth in the adult education segment with our degree completion programs and graduate degree programs."

At this point in time last year we had reached 2,012 students, another record for the College and had already surpassed last year's goal. With unduplicated enrollment for the academic year at 2,412 today, that equals a 20 percent increase-400 more students-from a year ago. This is 4.4 percent over this year's goal of 2,310. The majority of the growth is attributed to the College's evening and online programs.

This year marks the 165th anniversary of the College as an educational institution in Kentucky.

For more information about Midway College, contact Ellen Gregory at (859) 846-6046 (office) or (859) 338-1775 (cell) or email egregory@midway.edu.

My Letter to Daddy Lee Peters

Well daddy it's been six years now, it still feels like it was yesterday. I still sit and cry over you but I know you are in a better place and I know you will never be sick again but I still miss you like crazy. Watching the video tape I have of you makes me miss you even more but I know you are in a better place now so it helps the pain. Looking at your pictures makes me wish you were still here but when I think of what all you have now, I smile a little just thinking that you will never be sick again or never have to worry over anything ever again, it makes me happy for you; But nothing will ever stop me from missing you. Daddy, I love you with all my heart and I miss you more and more each day.
Love, Anna Asher (Peters)
